WASHINGTON, D. C.
Branches—Atlantic City, Asbury Park.THE DEBUTANTE

THE spotlight is not playing on the debutantes here, as it is almost everywhere else, except New York, where the Washington custom obtains of having the coming-out string along from Thanksgiving to the holiday season. Over in Philadelphia two or three a day of the new girls are being presented, and where the families have suburban homes much eclat and liberal hospitality have accompanied the parties. In Baltimore the debutante circle is a large one, having only a few less than fifty. Forty-four are really expected at the first Bachelor's cotillon, Monday, December 12. In Minneapolis it is the "hostesses" who give the first great ball of the winter, and it is under their protecting care that the fourteen debutantes, the largest number ever gathered on a similar occasion, are to make their first bows. One of them, whose wedding day is close by also, intended to waive the bud privileges, but consented to stand up with the other thirteen rather than have the rest in superfluous atmosphere, which otherwise that number might have created. There are fifty-one members in the Hostess Club, and they naturally control the social situation.

Pacific coast buds are also much in evidence at this time. In San Francisco no end of teas, etc., are already on the way. The Greenway balls, the first of which will be given in December, will be the initial meeting in a ceremonial way. In St. Paul, instead of remaining demurely at the side of her mother, her party, one of the to be greatly feted buds contributed to the pleasure of her guests by giving piano numbers now and then. The tea wound up with a large bridge.

The Washington list will probably reach twenty-five and more, and the debut while in many cases already decided upon tentatively, may not be adhered to if an invitation turns up which may look attractive to the fair maid and her intimates. Most people find it pretty hard to live up to a date set months ahead unless it is a wedding day. No need for any special hurry, anyway, as the preliminaries can be safely arranged in December. The regular season of 1911 will last two months. Ash Wednesday will not come until March 1 and Easter Sunday will be April 16.

The festivities centering about the Argentine school ship—and a very charming brand of hospitality was dispensed aboard her—and the affairs at the Argentine legation, etc., for her captain, officers and cadets made quite a spurt in social life, and almost the only one of the past week. The horse show gave an opportunity also to look across the tan bark at very smartly arrayed femininity, and a place to go for several days—otherwise it has been deadly dull hereabouts, and will be so, the wisecracks say, until the political horizon is cleared and election day with its hopes and fears is a thing of the past.

Mrs. Taft's portrait, painted by a Swedish artist, Mr. Bror Kronstrand, to whom she gave sittings at Beverly last summer, after being exhibited in New York, will, it is said, be placed in the White House. The picture represents Mrs. Taft seated on a garden bench, with trees and sky as a background.

Miss Marie Edmonstone King, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. King of Washington, is visiting friends in New York and attending the Princeton-Barnmouth game. She is to make her debut at a tea, December 14.

Miss Katherine Riggs Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sprigg Poole, will be one of the debutantes this season. She will be presented at a tea about the middle of December.

Miss Ida Norment Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odell I. Smith, will be presented at a tea Wednesday, November 30. Her parents will give a dance for her later in the season.

Mrs. William Manning Irwin went to New York yesterday to spend a week. Mrs. Irwin will spend next Saturday with her son, Mr. Harrison Irwin, at Princeton, where she will see the Princeton-Yale game.

Mr. George Jay Gould will shortly take up residence at Abbotford, the famous home of Sir Walter Scott, near Melrose, Scotland, which he has rented for the winter from Mrs. Maxwell-Scott, great-granddaughter of the poet.

In Abbotford Mr. Gould will have a residence of great historic interest, for Sir Walter Scott was a collector of souvenirs of Scottish heroes during his early manhood. In the armory are weapons of every age in the history of the Scotts, with lists of their names and deeds.

The last suit of clothes worn by Sir Walter Scott, a seal, a knitted purse made by Flora Macdonald, Robert Burns' tattered tumbler and Napoleon's pen and dispatch case are also Abbotford possessions.

Mr. Jose F. Godoy and family left last Tuesday over the Mexican railway for Vera Cruz, on their way to Cuba, where Mr. Godoy will resume his duties as Mexican minister.

The Dutch minister and Mme. London are enjoying their stay in the City of Mexico and have returned there from a trip to the southern part of the republic, including a visit to the ruins of Mitla.

Miss Eva Appleton Smith, daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Appleton Smith of Omaha, formerly of Chicago, and Capt. A. La Rue Christie of the 8th United States Infantry were married Thursday night in Trinity Cathedral, Omaha. Miss Martha Christie, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Edith Valentine, Miss Miriam Patterson and Miss Ruth Lord, all of Omaha. Capt. Talbot was best man and the ushers were Capt. Babcock, Capt. Butler, Capt. O'Connor, Lieut. E. M. Watson and Lieut. Raymond F. Smith. The bride's gown was of ivory charmeuse satin embroidered in pearls and trimmed in Venetian pail lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with pearls and she carried a shower-bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a blue Philippine just fiber chiffon cloth over silk, and the bridesmaids wore blue satin gowns veiled in chiffon. The church service was followed by a reception at 8:30 o'clock at the Hotel Loyal. Capt. and Mrs. Christie will go abroad on their wedding trip and on their return will make their home in Monterey, Cal.

The members of the Octagon Pleasure Club will hold an informal reception for their friends this evening from 8 until 10 o'clock in their new clubrooms, 1309 14th street northwest.

Mrs. Julia Luchs has returned to Washington after spending the summer in Atlantic City and Philadelphia, and is now located at the Colonnade, 1822 U street northwest.

Mr. William F. Fox of this city and Miss Loretta Schaefer of Pittsburgh, Pa., were quietly married in Pittsburgh Wednesday, October 19. Mrs. Fox is the sister of Dr. E. G. Schaefer of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. James C. Pilling and Miss Ruth Pilling, a greatly feted debutante of last winter, have returned. They went first to their cottage in the Blue Ridge and from there to New Hampshire and Canada, returning to the Blue Ridge for the autumn.

The engagement is announced of Miss

Smith, which will be solemnized in St. Anthony's Church, Brookland, Wednesday, November 3, at 11 o'clock. Miss Agnes Elston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elston, will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Anna G. May, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Katharine Beresford. Mr. May's best man will be his brother, Mr. Leo May, and the ushers are Dr. Louis C. Seigler of Doylestown, Pa., and Messrs. James H. Baden, John Hampton and Joseph D. Sullivan of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gaddis, Jr., will not be at home until November 15, after which date they will be glad to receive their friends.

The wedding of Lieut. W. H. Shea, U. S. R. C. S., and Miss Laila Wenzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel, will take place November 16 at the home of the bride.

A delightful affair of the early season was the dinner given on board the U. S. S. Albatross to Miss Helen Drexel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Drexel, who was the guest of Miss Theresa E. Drexel of Washington, Miss Grace Boulden and Adeline Semple of Wilmington, Miss Beatrice Bullen of Lancaster, Pa., and Miss Christine Taylor of Braddock Heights, Md.

Albatross Friday evening and the reception and dance at League Island navy yard Wednesday evening. Miss Drexel will go to New York to be the guest of Mrs. Charles C. Burt, wife of Capt. C. A. Burt, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A.

Mrs. W. T. Doyle entertained at an unusually pretty Halloween party last Friday evening at her home, 1216 D street in honor of her daughter, Miss Helen Doyle.

The drawing rooms were charmingly arranged with palms, autumn leaves and quantities of yellow autumn flowers. In the dining room, where supper was served, the table was beautifully decorated with ferns, yellow flowers and yellow shaded lights, the centerpiece being a large birthday cake ornamented with fourteen yellow candles. Each guest received a dainty favor appropriate to the season, and a number of attractive prize games were played and music was enjoyed. Among the guests were Miss Elsie Rothrock, Miss Hilda Janson, Miss Alice Knox, Miss Alma Carver, Miss Edna Brown, Miss Winifred Hassell, Miss Helen Doyle, Mr. Julian Schneider, Mr. Herbert Schneider, Mr. Willard Hart, Mr. Oscar Court, Mr. Frederick Rakemann, Mr. Herman Rakemann, Mr.

The home decorations displayed much artistic talent, and the table centerpiece was a large pumpkin surrounded by autumn leaves, among which were concealed the favors attached to the place cards, and caused much amusement when they were
